

Fact Checking Websites

NHS Behind the Headlines: <https://www.nhs.uk/news/>

A service provided by NHS Choices, offers an unbiased and evidence-based analysis of health news

BBC Reality Check: <https://www.bbc.co.uk/news/topics/cp7r8vql2rqt/reality-check>

The BBC re-launched Reality Check following the 2015 UK election

Full Fact: <https://fullfact.org/>

Full Fact is the UK's independent factchecking charity. They provide free tools and information to check claims made by politicians and the media.

Bad Science: <https://www.badsience.net/>

Ben Goldacre, author writes a column for The Guardian. His weblog focuses on media coverage of medicine.

Ask For Evidence: <http://www.askforevidence.org/ask-for-evidence/new>

Find out whether a product claim, policy statement or advert is backed by scientific evidence.

Sense about Science: <http://senseaboutscience.org/>

An independent charity that challenges the misrepresentation of science and evidence in public life.

Channel 4 FactCheck: <https://www.channel4.com/news/factcheck/>

Channel 4 News journalists check facts on claims made in UK politics.

Retraction Watch: <https://retractionwatch.com/>

This blog started in 2010 and reports on retractions of scientific papers.